ANNUAL REPORT

ALBERTA HERITAGE SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The Alberta Heritage Scholarships encourage the pursuit of excellence by giving recognition for outstanding achievement. Unique in scope, the program rewards individuals for their academic excellence at the high school, undergraduate and graduate levels as well as for exceptional contributions in athletic, professional and recreational activities.

The comprehensive nature of the Alberta Heritage Scholarships represents a potential for immeasurable enrichment of our society. It is hoped that these awards will encourage Albertans to reach for their fullest potential — whether intellectual, cultural, social or physical.

Each scholarship is named after an historically prominent Albertan who has made a significant contribution to the development of the province.

The $100 million scholarship program was announced by the Government of Alberta in September 1980. Funds are provided through an endowment from the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund. The program is administered by the Students Finance Board.

Alexander Rutherford

The Alexander Rutherford Scholarships honour the man who was Alberta's first premier. Born in Ontario in 1857, Alexander Rutherford came to Alberta in 1895 after obtaining arts and law degrees at McGill University and practicing law in Ottawa for several years.

He settled in Strathcona, then known as Edmonton South, where he practiced law. Entering politics in 1902, Rutherford was elected as a member of the Northwest Territories Legislature. He was the Deputy Speaker of the House until 1905, the year Alberta became a province.

On September 1, 1905, Alexander Rutherford was asked by Lieutenant-Governor Bulyea to form an administration for the new province. He served as Premier, Minister of Education and Provincial Treasurer.

Premier Rutherford was responsible for the founding of the University of Alberta in 1906. He retired from political life in 1913, but remained Chancellor of the University until his death in 1927.

Louise McKinney was born in Ontario in 1868. Married in 1896, she moved to Alberta with her husband and child, settling in Claresholm in 1903.

She became known as a champion of women's causes, fighting to secure the right for women to vote. This became a reality in 1916. In the Alberta general election of 1917, Louise McKinney was elected as an independent member for Claresholm, a riding she represented for four years. She supported legislation promoting social welfare and public health.

On October 18, 1929, after years of appeals that eventually reached the British Privy Council, Louise McKinney, along with four other prominent women, won the right for Canadian women to be legally recognized as "persons".

The Program

These scholarships recognize exceptional academic achievement and encourage outstanding students to continue their studies at the post-secondary level. Up to 750 scholarships are awarded annually. The scholarships are valued at $3,000 at the undergraduate level and $6,000 in faculties such as medicine, dentistry, law, veterinary medicine, optometry, etc.

Students enrolled at an Alberta university, college or technical institute, who are Alberta residents, may qualify for these scholarships on the basis of academic standing and upon recommendation of the educational institution attended.
